

Here's Some Highlights of Speeches

CHICAGO (AP) — Here are highlights of the acceptance speeches Thursday night of the Democratic Party's candidates for president and vice president.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the presidential nominee, said:

"This is not the first time that our nation has faced a challenge to its life and purpose. Each time we have emerged with new greatness and new strength. We must make a moment of crisis a moment of creation. We stand at such a moment now in the affairs of this nation—at the end of an era, at the beginning of a new day....

"Across America and throughout the world, we hear freedom's rising chorus: 'Let me live my own life. Let me live in peace. Let me be free.' It will be answered in how we face the three realities that face this nation.

"The first reality is the necessity for peace in Vietnam and the world. The second reality is the necessity for peace in our cities and in our nation. Third reality is the necessity for unity in our party and in our nation....

"Had we papered our differences with empty platitudes instead of frank debate (over Vietnam) we would deserve the contempt of our fellow citizens and the condemnation of history.... This debate is the work of a free people, the work of an open convention, the work of a political party responsible to the needs of this nation....

"Let those who believe that our cause in Vietnam has been right and those who believe it has been wrong agree here and now: neither vindication nor re-education will bring peace or be worthy of our country....

"We must halt the arms race before it halts humanity....

"Every American has the right to a safe neighborhood. On this there can be no compromise.... Riots, burning, sniping, mugging, traffic in narcotics and disregard for the law are the advance guard of anarchy—and they must be stopped.... The answer lies in reasoned effective action by state, local and federal authority. We do not want a police state but we do need a state of law and order....

"Neither mob violence nor police brutality have any place in America....

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie said in accepting the vice presidential nomination:

"My reaction.... is an acute awareness of the work we must do—to build a peace, to heal our country....

"To make a society such as ours work is not easy.... It means respect for the rule of law and equal justice as the best guardian of the rights of all citizens. It means granting all citizens equal opportunity to participate in American life, in the policy-making processes of our society....

"We have learned that freedom does not work unless we work at it.

"That, perhaps, is at least part of the reason for the surging determination of so many of our young people and of the dis-

"Such a force should hearten those who believe in freedom as the most creative expression of the human spirit.... We must learn to work with this force, to insure continued and more meaningful participation in the democratic process.

"This should inspire those involved with confidence that their efforts will achieve the dignity, opportunity, equality and full participation, which is the measure of what they seek.

LBJ Action Didn't Work on Muskie

CHICAGO (AP) — The man Lyndon B. Johnson sentenced to Senate obscurity for daring to defy him nine years ago has emerged as the Democratic nominee for vice president.

Even Johnson eventually agreed the sentence wouldn't stick on Edmund S. Muskie, the tall man from Maine who grew quietly but steadily in stature among his Senate colleagues through patient effort and integrity.

"The President regards him as a real powerhouse," a former White House aide said as Muskie took charge of key administration proposals on Capitol Hill after Johnson became president.

"A senator's senator," said Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, the man some believed Muskie might succeed someday.

But the first years were lonely ones for the lanky senator who arrived in Washington in 1959 after two terms as Maine's governor.

Johnson, Senate majority leader then, asked Muskie to vote with him to turn back a liberal effort to limit filibustering. Muskie refused.

Johnson responded by assigning the freshman senator his fourth, fifth and sixth choices for Senate committees. Instead of the Foreign Relations Committee spot Muskie wanted, he was given Banking and Currency, Public Works, and Government Operations.

Looking back, Muskie recalled, "I was frustrated, lonely, disillusioned and disconsolate."

But during the years Muskie's committees grew in importance. He handled administration bills to stem pollution of air and water. He steered Johnson's Model Cities program in the Senate. And he moved up in party ranks to become chairman of the campaign committee for Senate Democrats.

A former aide to Johnson praised him as "one of the few liberals who's a match for the Southern legislative crafts-men."

A Cabinet member said, "If you have a domestic bill that's really tough and you need advice on how to get it through, Ed Muskie's the best buy up there."

Muskie, 54, is the son of a Polish immigrant, Stephen Marczewski, who later shortened the family name. He became the nation's first Polish-American governor in 1954, ending 20 years of Republican domination of Maine politics.

The 6-foot-5 attorney rebuilt his party's fortunes in Maine so well that Senate colleague Margaret Chase Smith is the only Republican holding a major office in the state today.

Emotional Tribute to Kennedy

CHICAGO (AP) — For the second time in as many national conventions, Democrats have paid an emotional tribute to an assassinated party hero—both times a Kennedy.

The final session of the 1968 convention Thursday night opened with a 20-minute film tribute to the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, touching off 19 minutes of singing and chanting which convention Chairman Carl Albert was helpless to stop.

The film was introduced by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the last surviving Kennedy brother, who spoke to the convention on televised videotape from the Kennedy family compound at Hyannisport, Mass., saying:

"If my brother's life and death had one meaning above all others it was this: That we should not hate but love one another, that our strength should not be used to create the conditions that lead to violence but the conditions of justice that lead to peace."

Just four years ago, at Atlantic City, N.J., Robert Kennedy convention and, his eyes moist, paid a similar tribute to President John F. Kennedy, killed by an assassin in November, 1963.

As the film ended Thursday, cheering delegates and spectators rose—many close to tears—and began singing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," clapping their hands in unison.

Home-made signs of tribute to the slain New York senator appeared on the floor of the convention and in the visitors' galleries.

"Bobby, we'll seek your new world," said one. "Bobby, we miss you," said another.

It was the second demonstration of the night and sharply contrasted with one which began just prior to the opening gavel. That one was for Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley whose supporters had passed out professionally printed signs on the floor and in the visitors' galleries that read: "We love Mayor Daley."

And the Daley demonstrators had some competition from delegates who have criticized Chicago's police and Daley himself for their handling of downtown peace demonstrations during the week.

One anti-Daley delegate hoisted a sign reading, "Daley for Fugher."

The Kennedy demonstration, as might be expected, was generally sympathetic although at one point, a few people in the visitors' gallery chanted briefly,

President Played Good Politics

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, first chief executive in 24 years to skip his own party's national convention, probably was swayed by one or all of three factors—security, pride and plain old good politics.

The Texas White House, in keeping with its usual policy, didn't shed any light on the subject. But then it hadn't indicated until the very last possible minute whether Johnson would attend the final session of the Democratic National Convention Thursday night.

Speculation on why he didn't seemed to run along three lines:

Security. Two top Secret Service officials were in Chicago, including the head of the White House plainclothes bodyguard, and presumably they recommended Johnson stay away from the tension-torn city and convention.

Pride. Judging from the mood of many delegates, Johnson could not be assured in advance of an entirely friendly reception from fellow Democrats.

"Good politics. The President may have decided that his presence would have done nothing to further the election hopes of the new Democratic ticket of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine.

Despite the tumultuous demonstrations by antiwar protesters and the bitterness of anti-Humphrey forces on the convention floor, Johnson may have had a twinge of regret at one point if he chose to stay away because of pride.

Humphrey, in his acceptance speech, said Johnson "accomplished more of the unfinished business of America than any of his modern predecessors."

Then he added: "Tonight Mr. President I say thank you, thank you Mr. President."

The band struck up and the convention hall exploded into cheers.

Johnson was the first incumbent president since 1944, when Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominated for an unprecedented—and now illegal—fourth term, to stay away from his party's convention. FDR was on a secret wartime trip at the time.

Unexpectedly, Johnson made no immediate statement following the nomination of Muskie.

The planet Neptune has two known moons.

Ike Seems to Be Doing Real Fine

WASHINGTON (AP) — A noted cardiac specialist says Dwight D. Eisenhower, rallying from his seventh heart attack, has a lot going for him: A tough constitution, a tough heart and modern medicine.

"He's tough—and so is the human heart," said Dr. Paul Dudley White, once Eisenhower's doctor, in a telephone interview from Boston Thursday.

"I thought during the past week," he said, "that Gen. Eisenhower wasn't so terribly ill that there was need for bulletins every few minutes that he was about to die."

Doctors cut to one Thursday the number of daily bulletins detailing the former president and five-star general's condition. They had been issuing three since Eisenhower's seventh heart attack Aug. 16.

Eisenhower, 77, was taken off the critical list Wednesday. But Walter Reed Army Hospital doctors cautioned he is still in serious condition and long range prospects for full recovery are uncertain.

But White said: "Almost no matter how sick a person is" there is always a chance for recovery.

"We doctors and the lay public must maintain more hope with respect to disease," said White, who was chief consultant when Eisenhower suffered his first heart attack in 1955.

"The heart is no longer to be considered the delicate organ even we doctors once thought during the 1920's," he added.

White noted Eisenhower also has some individual advan-

News Briefs From the Convention

CHICAGO (AP) — The action at the Democratic National Convention leaves delegates, guests and newsmen hungry—and they've cut deeply into the food at famous Stock Yards Inn which adjoins the International Amphitheatre.

Since last Saturday night manager George Vourvoulas said the inn has served 8,750 pounds of prime rib, 8,000 pounds of tenderloin and 5,500 pounds of strip sirloin. An additional 10,000 pounds of beef was trucked in Wednesday.

CHICAGO (AP) — Representatives of 62 nations are guests at the Democratic National Convention.

Dr. Guillermo Sevilla-Sacasa, ambassador of Nicaragua and dean of the diplomatic corps in Washington, said "this is such an important event and so exciting."

"The yippies don't bother me at all," said Jacques Leprette, minister counselor of France. "We got lots of yippies and hippies in France."

CHICAGO (AP) — Friendly enemies are present at the Democratic National Convention—a group of watchful Republicans headed by Congressman Donald Rumsfeld of Illinois.

"We do not consider ourselves a truth squad," said Rumsfeld. "Our purposes are simple and twofold. Basically, we are here as interested observers of the proceedings, reporting to Republican leaders around the country. Secondly, we are making ourselves available to the press should the record and programs of the Republican party need rapid clarification or exposition."

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's oldest son thinks his dad, fresh from winning the Democratic presidential nomination, will have no trouble getting himself known by the voters.

"There are two solid months left for people to gaze into that TV tube," said Hubert III, 26-year-old law student.

"He's in there driving yet he'll bounce and laugh," said young Hubert. "He doesn't have long hair or the Kennedy image. He's not 35, or 45, but he's not 60 either." (Humphrey is 57).

CHICAGO (AP) — Betty Furness, President Johnson's adviser on consumer affairs, had a big laugh line in her brief speech to the Democratic National Convention.

"I can promise you one thing," said Miss Furness, the former movie and television star. "When the Republicans eat crow in November it will be federally inspected crow."

Commissioners Are Sentenced

LENOIR, N.C. (AP) — The five Caldwell County commissioners were sentenced to 48 hours in county jail Thursday by a Superior Court judge who found them guilty of contempt of court for not providing "adequate office space" for the clerk of Superior Court.

The five immediately announced they would appeal to the North Carolina Appeals Court. Each was released on $500 bond.

Col. Robert E. Lee was commander of the troops that captured John Brown after his seizure of the federal armory at Harpers Ferry.

$1.6 Million Worth of Art Recovered

BRADFORD, Pa. (AP) — After the recovery of art treasures she values at more than $1.6 million, former Egyptian dancer Tullah Hanley said thieves may have trouble the next time they try to steal from the Hanley home.

"When they (the treasures) come back from Washington, they'll come back to a completely burglar-proof house including devices that can smell people," she said.

The treasures include a 1901 Picasso painting, "Moulin Rouge," valued at $500,000; a 1906 Cezanne watercolor also valued at $500,000; Degas, Renoirs, Modiglianis, a latour, a Rodin, a Goya and statues and drawings.

They were recovered Thursday by the FBI near Kane, in a rural area. Officials refused to say where or how they were recovered.

The pieces were stolen Aug. 21 from the collection of Dr. T. Edward Hanley, Tullah's husband.

Because of failing health, Mrs. Hanley said she had not revealed the loss to Hanley. But she said Hanley, 75, would know of the loss today when he reads the papers.

HOPE (ARK) STAR, Printed by Offset Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. JOE H. STALLINGS, JR.,

On Sunday, August 25 at 4 p.m. in the sanctuary of the First United Methodist Church Miss Mary Ann Bader, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Steven Bader and Joe Hill Stallings, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Stallings, Sr. of Morrilton, pledged their marriage vows.

In a setting of votive lights in spiral candelabra enhanced by southern smilax, white Killian daisies, and magnolia leaves in lovely array, the Reverend Everett Vinson read the double-ring ceremony. Music was presented by Mrs. B. C. Hyatt, organist, and Tony Smith, vocal soloist. He sang "A Wedding Prayer" before the ceremony and "A Wedding Benediction" at its conclusion.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her dress of white satin was appliqued with Alencon lace and had a sweetheart neckline and long, pointed sleeves. The cathedral train with lace appliques was attached with white satin bows at the shoulders, and the bride's veil of silk illusion was held in place by a white satin bow. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and fleur d'amour.

Miss Martha Bader was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sarah Braden, Texarkana, Ark.; Miss Betty Schenck, Hope; Mrs. James Melvin Speck, Memphis, Tenn.;

and Miss Meredith Tucker, Hughes. They wore full-length dresses of yellow crepe with an empire waist and tiny puff sleeves. A yellow satin bow was in the back and hung the full length of the dress. Each wore yellow satin roses in her hair and carried a nosegay of yellow sweetheart roses.

Buddy Villines, North Little Rock, was the groom's best man. Groomsmen Walt Stallings, and Alan Stallings, Jr., all of Morrilton and cousins of the groom. Before the ceremony, Walt Stallings and Alan Stallings, Jr. lighted the candles.

Miss Debby Benson, Irving, Tex., cousin of the bride, was the flower girl, and Master Tommy Benson, Irving, Tex., another cousin of the bride, was the ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Bader wore moss green with matching accessories, and the groom's mother, Mrs. Stallings, wore aqua crepe with matching accessories. Both had fleur d'amour corsages. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Heritage House. The serving table was covered with a white organdy cloth and centered with a silver eperone holding burning tapers and Killian daisies. The table with the bride's book also held a memory candle.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. H. E. Benson, aunt of the bride; Miss Becky Kennedy, cousin of the bride; Mrs. John Crum, Stuttgart, and Mrs. Ed Montgomery, Alabama, sisters of the groom; Mrs. Brack Schenck; Miss Susan Benson, Little Rock, cousin of the bride; Miss Mary Jane Mitchell, Morrilton; Miss Patil Porter, North Little Rock; Miss Hildy McAtee, Little Rock; and Miss Polly Ann Milum, Conway. Miss Jane Braden, Texarkana, played the piano during the reception.

For a wedding trip to HemisFair and the Gulf coast, the bride wore a brown and beige knit dress and coat with bone accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Stallings will be at home in Conway, where both will be seniors at Hendrix College.

The senior vice president: He likes to think of himself as the lovable old Mr. Chips of the office. The fatherly attitude—that's his gimmick. Whenever he sees one of the girls looking blue, he consoles her by putting a fatherly arm around her and giving her fatherly pats. It generally takes him five fatherly pats to range from the shoulder to the hamline.

That's a fair sampling of white collar Romeos, isn't it girls? Most office wolves are really so dull they wouldn't know what to do if you gave them "yes" for an answer.

Here's Some Highlights of Speeches

CHICAGO (AP) — Here are highlights of the acceptance speeches Thursday night of the Democratic Party's candidates for president and vice president.

"Such a force should hearten those who believe in freedom as the most creative expression of the human spirit.... We must learn to work with this force, to insure continued and more meaningful participation in the democratic process.

"This is the way to develop the self-discipline of an enlightened and civilized society, rather than the imposed discipline of a barracks state."

PARACHUTING PALS are Marine Sgt. Frank Spano of Paterson, N.J., and "Lobo," a 75-pound scout dog. Both are assigned to duty in Vietnam, where they guide Marine patrols. Spano had a special harness made for "Lobo" and he clips this to his own when the jump is made. On the way down, the sergeant lowers "Lobo" on a rope away from him so that neither will get hurt when they land. Man and dog have been together for nearly a year, working with the Third Force Reconnaissance Marines near Da Nang.

LBJ Action Didn't Work on Muskie

CHICAGO (AP) — The man Lyndon B. Johnson sentenced to Senate obscurity for daring to defy him nine years ago has emerged as the Democratic nominee for vice president.

Even Johnson eventually agreed the sentence wouldn't stick on Edmund S. Muskie, the tall man from Maine who grew quietly but steadily in stature among his Senate colleagues through patient effort and integrity.

"The President regards him as a real powerhouse," a former White House aide said as Muskie took charge of key administration proposals on Capitol Hill after Johnson became president.

"A senator's senator," said Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, the man some believed Muskie might succeed someday.

But the first years were lonely ones for the lanky senator who arrived in Washington in 1959 after two terms as Maine's governor. Johnson, Senate majority leader then, asked Muskie to vote with him to turn back a liberal effort to limit filibustering. Muskie refused.

Johnson responded by assigning the freshman senator his fourth, fifth and sixth choices for Senate committees. Instead of the Foreign Relations Committee spot Muskie wanted, he was given Banking and Currency, Public Works, and Government Operations.

Looking back, Muskie recalled, "I was frustrated, lonely, disillusioned and disconsolate."

But during the years Muskie's committees grew in importance. He handled administration bills to stem pollution of air and water. He steered Johnson's Model Cities program in the Senate. And he moved up in party ranks to become chairman of the campaign committee for Senate Democrats.

A former aide to Johnson praised him as "one of the few liberals who's a match for the Southern legislative craftsmen."

A Cabinet member said, "If you have a domestic bill that's really tough and you need advice on how to get it through, Ed Muskie's the best buy up there."

Muskie, 54, is the son of a Polish immigrant, Stephen Marczewski, who later shortened the family name. He became the nation's first Polish-American governor in 1954, ending 20 years of Republican domination of Maine politics.

The 6-foot-5 attorney rebuilt his party's fortunes in Maine so well that Senate colleague Margaret Chase Smith is the only Republican holding a major office in the state today.

Muskie is a Navy veteran and a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Bates College.

Muskie was married to Jane Gray Muskie in 1948 when he was a Waterville, Maine, lawyer. They have five children.

The senator is an occasional golfer. A colleague confides his shots aren't booming long-range shots, but they are accurate.

President Played Good Politics

By FRANK CORMIER Associated Press Writer AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, first chief executive in 24 years to skip his own party's national convention, probably was swayed by one or all of three factors—security, pride and plain old good politics.

The Texas White House, in keeping with its usual policy, didn't shed any light on the subject. But then it hadn't indicated until the very last possible minute whether Johnson would attend the final session of the Democratic National Convention Thursday night.

Speculation on why he didn't seemed to run along three lines: Security. Two top Secret Service officials were in Chicago, including the head of the White House plainclothes bodyguard, and presumably they recommended Johnson stay away from the tension-torn city and convention.

Pride. Judging from the mood of many delegates, Johnson could not be assured in advance of an entirely friendly reception from fellow Democrats.

"Good politics. The President may have decided that his presence would have done nothing to further the election hopes of the new Democratic ticket of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine.

Despite the tumultuous demonstrations by antiwar protesters and the bitterness of anti-Humphrey forces on the convention floor, Johnson may have had a twinge of regret at one point if he chose to stay away because of pride.

Humphrey, in his acceptance speech, said Johnson "accomplished more of the unfinished business of America than any of his modern predecessors."

Then he added: "Tonight Mr. President I say thank you, thank you Mr. President."

The band struck up and the convention hall exploded into cheers.

Johnson was the first incumbent president since 1944, when Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominated for an unprecedented—and now illegal—fourth term, to stay away from his party's convention. FDR was on a secret wartime trip at the time.

Unexpectedly, Johnson made no immediate statement following the nomination of Muskie.

The planet Neptune has two known moons.

Emotional Tribute to Kennedy

CHICAGO (AP) — For the second time in as many national conventions, Democrats have paid an emotional tribute to an assassinated party hero—both times a Kennedy.

The final session of the 1968 convention Thursday night opened with a 20-minute film tribute to the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, touching off 19 minutes of singing and chanting which convention Chairman Carl Albert was helpless to stop.

The film was introduced by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the last surviving Kennedy brother, who spoke to the convention on televised videotape from the Kennedy family compound at Hyannisport, Mass., saying:

"If my brother's life and death had one meaning above all others it was this: That we should not hate but love one another, that our strength should not be used to create the conditions that lead to violence but the conditions of justice that lead to peace."

Just four years ago, at Atlantic City, N.J., Robert Kennedy convention and, his eyes moist, paid a similar tribute to President John F. Kennedy, killed by an assassin in November, 1963.

As the film ended Thursday, cheering delegates and spectators rose—many close to tears—and began singing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," clapping their hands in unison.

Home-made signs of tribute to the slain New York senator appeared on the floor of the convention and in the visitors' galleries.

"Bobby, we'll seek your new world," said one. "Bobby, we miss you," said another.

It was the second demonstration of the night and sharply contrasted with one which began just prior to the opening gavel. That one was for Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley whose supporters had passed out professionally printed signs on the floor and in the visitors' galleries that read: "We love Mayor Daley."

And the Daley demonstrators had some competition from delegates who have criticized Chicago's police and Daley himself for their handling of downtown peace demonstrations during the week.

One anti-Daley delegate hoisted a sign reading, "Daley for Fusher."

The Kennedy demonstration, as might be expected, was generally sympathetic although at one point, a few people in the visitors' gallery chanted briefly,

"We want Daley."

Time and again, Albert pounded his gavel calling for order. But neither he nor Mrs. Dorothy V. Bush, secretary to the Democratic National Committee could quiet the hall.

Not until Delegate Ralph Metcalf of Chicago, a Negro, introduced a tribute to the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., also the victim of an assassin's bullet, did the convention hall quiet.

The Kennedy film, which most delegates watched standing at their seats, brought all but dead silence to the hall, perhaps the first time that has happened during any session of this convention.

Edward Kennedy had decided to stay at his family's Cape Cod compound rather than address the Chicago convention in person. He indicated Thursday after taping the introduction to the memorial that he intended to remain secluded in Massachusetts, at least for the immediate future.

Ike Seems to Be Doing Real Fine

WASHINGTON (AP) — A noted cardiac specialist says Dwight D. Eisenhower, rallying from his seventh heart attack, has a lot going for him: A tough constitution, a tough heart and modern medicine.

"He's tough—and so is the human heart," said Dr. Paul Dudley White, one of Eisenhower's doctors, in a telephone interview from Boston Thursday.

"I thought during the past week," he said, "that Gen. Eisenhower wasn't so terribly ill that there was need for bulletins every few minutes that he was about to die."

Doctors cut to one Thursday the number of daily bulletins detailing the former president and five-star general's condition. They had been issuing three since Eisenhower's seventh heart attack Aug. 16.

Eisenhower, 77, was taken off the critical list Wednesday. But Walter Reed Army Hospital doctors cautioned he is still in serious condition and long range prospects for full recovery are uncertain.

But White said: "Almost no matter how sick a person is" there is always a chance for recovery.

"We doctors and the lay public must maintain more hope with respect to disease," said White, who was chief consultant when Eisenhower suffered his first heart attack in 1955.

"The heart is no longer to be considered the delicate organ even we doctors once thought during the 1920's," he added.

White noted Eisenhower also has some individual advan-

News Briefs From the Convention

CHICAGO (AP) — The action at the Democratic National Convention leaves delegates, guests and newsmen hungry—and they've cut deeply into the food at famous Stock Yards Inn which adjoins the International Amphitheatre.

Since last Saturday night manager George Vourvoulas said the inn has served 8,750 pounds of prime rib, 8,000 pounds of tenderloin and 5,600 pounds of strip sirloin. An additional 10,000 pounds of beef was trucked in Wednesday.

CHICAGO (AP) — Representatives of 62 nations are guests at the Democratic National Convention.

Dr. Guillermo Sevilla-Sacasa, ambassador of Nicaragua and dean of the diplomatic corps in Washington, said "this is such an important event and so exciting."

"The yuppies don't bother me at all," said Jacques Leprette, minister counselor of France. "We got lots of yuppies and hippies in France."

CHICAGO (AP) — Friendly enemies are present at the Democratic National Convention—a group of watchful Republicans headed by Congressman Donald Rumsfeld of Illinois.

"We do not consider ourselves a truth squad," said Rumsfeld. "Our purposes are simple and twofold. Basically, we are here as interested observers of the proceedings, reporting to Republican leaders around the country. Secondly, we are making ourselves available to the press should the record and programs of the Republican party need rapid clarification or exposition."

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's oldest son thinks his dad, fresh from winning the Democratic presidential nomination, will have no trouble getting himself known by the voters.

"There are two solid months left for people to gaze into that TV tube," said Hubert III, 26-year-old law student.

"He's in there driving yet he'll bounce and laugh," said young Hubert. "He doesn't have long hair or the Kennedy image. He's not 35, or 45, but he's not 60 either." (Humphrey is 57).

CHICAGO (AP) — Betty Furness, President Johnson's adviser on consumer affairs, had a big laugh line in her brief speech to the Democratic National Convention.

"I can promise you one thing," said Miss Furness, the former movie and television star. "When the Republicans eat crow in November it will be federally inspected crow."

Commissioners Are Sentenced

LENOIR, N.C. (AP) — The five Caldwell County commissioners were sentenced to 48 hours in county jail Thursday by a Superior Court judge who found them guilty of contempt of court for not providing "adequate office space" for the clerk of Superior Court.

The five immediately announced they would appeal to the North Carolina Appeals Court. Each was released on $500 bond.

Col. Robert E. Lee was commander of the troops that captured John Brown after his seizure of the federal armory at Harpers Ferry.

$1.6 Million Worth of Art Recovered

BRADFORD, Pa. (AP) — After the recovery of art treasures she values at more than $1.6 million, former Egyptian dancer Tullah Hanley said thieves may have trouble the next time they try to steal from the Hanley home.

"When they (the treasures) come back from Washington, they'll come back to a completely burglar-proof house including devices that can smell people," she said.

The treasures include a 1901 Picasso painting, "Moulin Rouge," valued at $500,000; a 1906 Cezanne watercolor also valued at $500,000; Degas, Renoirs, Modiglianis, a Latour, a Rodin, a Goya and statues and drawings.

They were recovered Thursday by the FBI near Kane, in a rural area. Officials refused to say where or how they were recovered.

The pieces were stolen Aug. 21 from the collection of Dr. T. Edward Hanley, Tullah's husband.

Because of failing health, Mrs. Hanley said she had not revealed the loss to Hanley. But she said Hanley, 75, would know of the loss today when he reads the papers.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. JOE H. STALLINGS, JR.,

On Sunday, August 25 at 4 p.m. in the sanctuary of the First United Methodist Church Miss Mary Ann Bader, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Steven Bader and Joe Hill Stallings, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Stallings, Sr. of Morrilton, pledged their marriage vows.

In a setting of votive lights in spiral candelabra enhanced by southern smilax, white Killian daisies, and magnolia leaves in lovely array, the Reverend Everett Vinson read the double-ring ceremony. Music was presented by Mrs. B. C. Hyatt, organist, and Tony Smith, vocal soloist.

He sang "A Wedding Prayer" before the ceremony and "A Wedding Benediction" at its conclusion.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her dress of white satin was appliqued with Alencon lace and had a sweetheart neckline and long, pointed sleeves. The cathedral train with lace appliques was attached with white satin bows at the shoulders, and the bride's veil of silk illusion was held in place by a white satin bow. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and fleur d'amour.

Miss Martha Bader was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sarah Braden, Texarkana, Ark.; Miss Betty Schenck, Hope; Mrs. James Melvin Speck, Memphis, Tenn.;

and Miss Meredith Tucker, Hughes. They wore full-length dresses of yellow crepe with an empire waist and tiny puff sleeves. A yellow satin bow was in the back and hung the full length of the dress. Each wore yellow satin roses in her hair and carried a nosegay of yellow sweetheart roses.

Buddy Villines, North Little Rock, was the groom's best man. Groomsmen Walt Stallings, and Alan Stallings, Jr., all of Morrilton and cousins of the groom. Before the ceremony, Walt Stallings and Alan Stallings, Jr. lighted the candles.

Miss Debby Benson, Irving, Tex., cousin of the bride, was the flower girl, and Master Tommy Benson, Irving, Tex., another cousin of the bride, was the ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Bader wore moss green with matching accessories, and the groom's mother, Mrs. Stallings, wore aqua crepe with matching accessories. Both had neur d'amour corsages. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Heritage House. The serving table was covered with a white organdy cloth and centered with a silver eperone holding burning tapers and Killian daisies. The table with the bride's book also held a memory candle.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. H. E. Benson, aunt of the bride; Miss Becky Kennedy, cousin of the bride; Mrs. John Crum, Stuttgart, and Mrs. Ed Montgomery, Alabama, sisters of the groom; Mrs. Brack Schenck; Miss Susan Benson, Little Rock, cousin of the bride; Miss Mary Jane Mitchell, Morrilton; Miss Patti Porter, North Little Rock; Miss Hildy McAtee, Little Rock; and Miss Polly Ann Milum, Conway. Miss Jane Braden, Texarkana, played the piano during the reception.

For a wedding trip to HemisFair and the Gulf coast, the bride wore a brown and beige

knit dress and coat with bone accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Stallings will be at home in Conway, where both will be seniors at Hendrix College.

The senior vice president: He likes to think of himself as the lovable old Mr. Chips of the office. The fatherly attitude—that's his gimmick. Whenever he sees one of the girls looking blue, he consoles her by putting a fatherly arm around her and giving her fatherly pats. It generally takes him five fatherly pats to range from the shoulder to the hemline.

That's a fair sampling of white collar Romeos, isn't it? Most office wolves are really so dull they wouldn't know what to do if you gave them "yes" for an answer.

Senators Put Orioles in Reverse

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Washington Senators have had their troubles moving forward, but they overcame them long enough to put the Baltimore Orioles in reverse.

The Senators entered Baltimore two days ago buried in last place in the American League while the Orioles had climbed within four games of leading Detroit.

Washington departed Thursday night still locked in the cellar, but left the Orioles moving backward, six games behind the Tigers after losing twice to the Senators.

Frank Howard's home run put the brakes on the Orioles Wednesday night and the king-sized slugger teamed with Ken McMullen and rookie Gary Holman to beat Baltimore 5-4 in 11 innings Thursday night.

That loss came after Detroit rode Mickey Lolich's three-hitter to a 2-0 triumph over California in the afternoon as the Tigers built momentum for their three-game weekend series against Baltimore starting tonight.

In other games, the Chicago White Sox slipped by the New York Yankees 1-0 and Minnesota tripped Cleveland 3-2 in night contests and Boston crumbled Oakland 11-2 in daylight.

In the National League, St. Louis crushed Pittsburgh 5-0, the New York Mets halted Cincinnati 2-0 and Atlanta stomped Philadelphia 6-0 at night, and Houston beat San Francisco 6-1 in the afternoon in the only games.

The Senators played their last place role for seven innings against rookie Roger Nelson, making his first start of the season. They had only four hits and trailed 3-0. Then came the start of the turnaround.

A walk and shortstop Mark Belanger's error on a potential double play sent McMullen up with two on and one out and he unloaded his 18th homer for a tie game. Howard followed with his 38th blast on the next pitch.

Baltimore got back on the beam temporarily when Brooks Robinson, who doubled in two earlier runs, singled home the tying run in the eighth. But Holman, who pinch hit unsuccessfully in the eighth and stayed in the game, followed Bernie Allen's one-out double off Eddie Watt, 4-5, with a two-out, game-winning single.

Lolich, 13-8, put the pressure on the Orioles earlier after a slow start in which he gave up three hits in the first two innings. But he retired the last 20 hitters he faced, and finished with 12 strike outs and one walk.

Willie Horton supplied the offense with his 31st home run in the fourth inning for the first of two hits given up by George Brunet, 13-13, in his seven innings. Horton drove in the second run in the eighth with an infield hit.

Luis Aparicio followed Tom McCraw's leadoff bunt single and a sacrifice in the seventh with a run-scoring hit against Steve Barber, 6-5, for Chicago's victory.

First Joel Horlen, 9-11, and then Wilbur Wood, who relieved in the ninth, protected the run with a seven-hitter.

Bob Allison's 18th homer with one out in the eighth broke a tie and gave Minnesota its triumph behind Jim Kaat's six-hit pitching. He struck out 10 as he raised his record to 11-10.

Reggie Smith led Boston's bombardment with his first grand slam homer, his 10th of the season, and a run-scoring ground out, Joe Foy added two

Nicklaus, Palmer Favored

By DAVE GOLDBERG
Associated Press Sports Writer
CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer are the favorites in the Thunderbird Golf Classic which starts today, but Bob Murphy and Lee Trevino are having all the fun.

While Palmer and Nicklaus were busy with the feud between the Professional Golfers Association and the touring pros, Trevino and Murphy, the hottest newcomers on the tour, concentrated on their golf and their galleries.

"I didn't even know there was a meeting going on," Trevino said of the huddle involving Palmer and PGA officials in Washington. "I just came here to play golf."

Trevino, the U.S. Open champion was one of the first pros to arrive at the par 72 Upper Montclair Country Club course and his presence turned most of the practice-round spectators into members of Lee's Fleas.

Trevino was approaching the 10th tee on one practice round when he spotted Murphy—winner of the Philadelphia Classic last week—about to tee off.

"Whoa," he shouted, legs trotting towards the tee, "Wait for me, Murphy."

For the next nine holes, the Fleas, augmented by Murphy's Mulligans, were treated to a steady diet of chatter with a little bit on the side.

"I just couldn't make a putt," Trevino said after shooting a one-over-par 73 in Thursday's pro-amateur. "My putting needs a lot of work."

Murphy shot a 75 in the pro-am, in which Billy Casper, Bob Goalby and Mason Rudolph shot 68s.

A team led by Ken Venturi took the pro-am with a best-ball score of 56.

The Jets, who won their last two games after an opening loss, could get some unexpected trouble from a Cincinnati team that was perked up by an upset victory over the NFL Pittsburgh Steelers last weekend.

Cincinnati 1-3, was tough on rushing against Pittsburgh, allowing the Steelers only 29 yards, but the Bengals' main problem against New York will be stopping the passing of Joe Namath. Namath saw his first action last weekend and threw for two touchdowns in a triumph over the NFL Atlanta Falcons.

Saturday's schedule has three interleague games—Baltimore, NFL, at Miami, AFL; Kansas City, AFL, at Los Angeles and Dallas, NFL, at Houston, AFL. New Orleans is at Atlanta and Green Bay takes on Pittsburgh at Milwaukee, Wis., in NFL GAMES Saturday.

Oakland of the AFL plays at NFL San Francisco and Minnesota is at St. Louis in an NFL game Sunday, while Philadelphia, NFL, plays Boston, AFL, at Cambridge, Mass., Monday. The Minnesota-St. Louis game Sunday night will be televised nationally.

AFL Teams Hold Edge Over NFL

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Cleveland Browns encounter the Buffalo Bills tonight, their first American Football League opposition ever, and the National Football League sorely needs a Browns' victory.

The AFL holds a 10-5 edge over the NFL and needs only two more victories to clinch the interleague, preseason series with eight games remaining, six of them this weekend.

There also are two AFL games on tap tonight—Cincinnati vs. the New York Jets at Memphis, Tenn., and Denver against San Diego at San Antonio, Tex.

The Washington Redskins scored 16 points in the second period and held on for a 16-10 victory over the Detroit Lions in an NFL game at Washington Thursday night.

Jerry Allen ran three yards for the first touchdown and Jim Ninowski passed 25 yards to Jerry Smith. Both touchdowns were set up when the Lions were penalized on third down after Washington drives apparently had stalled.

The Redskins got a safety when linebacker Ed Brading blocked a Jerry DePoyster punt in the end zone.

Detroit, who scored on a 59-yard pass from Bill Munson to Earl McCulloch and DePoyster's 37-yard field goal, lost a chance to win when Munson's 39-yard scoring pass to McCulloch late in the final quarter was nullified by offensive holding.

Cleveland is expected to make its first appearance against an AFL team a victorious one as the Bills have serious problems at quarterback.

Buffalo's regular quarterback, veteran Jack Kemp, tore ligaments in his right knee in a scrimmage last Monday and will be lost for the season. No. 1 backup man Tom Flores also is on the injured list with a sore passing arm and is ineligible to play.

This means the Bills will go with rookie Dan Darragh and Kay Stephenson, obtained from San Diego Wednesday, at quarterback.

Frank Ryan and Bill Nelsen will be at quarterback for Cleveland, which will have Charley Harraway at halfback in place of the injured Ernie Green.

The Browns go into the game with a 2-1 record, Buffalo at 2-1-1.

San Diego, 2-2, meets Denver, 1-2, fresh from an upset over the NFL Los Angeles Rams. Denver will have to stop John Hadl, who passed for 300 yards and two touchdowns against the Rams.

With regular quarterback Steve Tensi sidelined with a broken collarbone, John McCormick, attempting a comeback at 31, is expected to start for Denver.

The Jets, who won their last two games after an opening loss, could get some unexpected trouble from a Cincinnati team that was perked up by an upset victory over the NFL Pittsburgh Steelers last weekend.

Cincinnati 1-3, was tough on rushing against Pittsburgh, allowing the Steelers only 29 yards, but the Bengals' main problem against New York will be stopping the passing of Joe Namath. Namath saw his first action last weekend and threw for two touchdowns in a triumph over the NFL Atlanta Falcons.

4AA Split Into Two Sections

Div. 4-AA football opens the 1968 season with a new format. For the first time the league will be divided into two sections. Each section will be made up of six teams. Provisions have been made for a playoff at the end of the season between the two sectional winners.

This new format was brought about by the growth to 12 teams (three new teams will be playing football in the league) and will likely continue until redistricting is made on a statewide level or consolidation reduces the number of teams back to a workable nine or ten teams.

Defending champion in 4AA is the Fairview Cardinals. The Red and White charges of Coach George Branch will be favored in the WEST section along with Malvern, the team Fairview edged for the title last year. Other West teams are Arkadelphia, Hope, Lincoln, and Washington of Texarkana.

Magnolia's rebuilding Panthers under Coach Don Hubbard are favored in the EAST section. The Columbia Cats lost only one game in their last six last season. Others in the East section are Camden, Crossett, Smackover, Warren, and Washington of El Dorado.

Three new coaches will be making their debut in 4AA this fall. They are Don Crews at Smackover, Ronnie Higgins at Hope, and Frank Spainhour at Arkadelphia.

Many of the original 4AA members will continue playing even though they may not be in the same section. It is possible that the playoff teams in November may have played earlier in the season.

Eleven of the twelve teams open their season Sept. 6th or 7th. Only Arkadelphia does not get underway until a week later.

Opening schedules:
Fri., Sept. 6th: Magnolia at Warren (C); Washington El Dorado at El Dorado; Lincoln Camden at Camden; Malvern host to Hot Springs; Crossett host to Eudora; Smackover host to Norphlet; Hope host to Ashdown.
Sat., Sept. 7th: Washington Texarkana at Fairview (C).

Brown Thinks Field Will Get Longer

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Paul Brown stepped onto the field at Cincinnati's Nippert Stadium prior to his first game in five years as a coach, looked around and said:

"This field looks short, but it'll probably get longer as the game goes."

Brown, coach of the American Football League's newest team, the Cincinnati Bengals, had taken steps to insure the season doesn't seem to get longer and longer as it goes.

"I've prepared myself for this," said the former, highly successful coach of the Cleveland Browns of the National League. "I coached myself before I came."

"We're not misleading ourselves. We're an expansion team, and we know it. We have a tough nut to crack."

Brown, who will be 60 next Saturday, is going through the team building process for the second team. Twenty-two years ago he built the Cleveland Browns and soon turned them into a powerhouse that dominated the All-America Conference and then the NFL for a while.

He's not laboring under any illusions that he can do the same within a short time in the AFL. In fact, if he had any such thoughts, they were quickly dispelled in the Bengals' first exhibition game, a contest against Kansas City in which they didn't run a play from scrimmage for the entire first quarter.

Actually, though, the Bengals have progressed rapidly since that quarter. They dropped their first three exhibition games all to AFL foes, but then surprisingly beat the Pittsburgh Steelers of the NFL.

Dewey Warren, a rookie from Tennessee who powered that victory, could wind up as the starting quarterback after starting out behind John Stofa. Brown traded for Stofa soon after obtaining the franchise, but the former Miami Dolphin injured his leg and hasn't played lately.

Warren, meanwhile, has displayed a bold, confident kind of quarterbacking and could be the No. 1 man when the Bengals open the season at San Diego next Friday night.

As receivers, Cincinnati has a pair of rookies at the ends, Warren McVea from Houston and Bob Trumpy from Utah, and a second-year player, Rod Sherman, at flanker. Sherman was grabbed from Oakland in the expansion draft.

The running attack also features rookies, which further indicates Brown's confidence that youth is the shortest route to eventual and lasting success.

Tom Smiley of Lamar Tech has been running at fullback while Paul Robinson of Arizona State and Jesse Phillips of Michigan State share the halfback spot. Phillips, incidentally, is the fellow who was paroled from a Michigan prison a day before Cincinnati's first exhibition game.

The interior offensive line also has three rookies—guard Dave Mendenhall of Washington State, All-America center Bob

Bobcats in Intrasquad Scrimmage

By RALPH ROUTTON
Star Sports Writer
With only a week left before the season opener with Ashdown, the Hope Bobcats ran through their annual Red-White intrasquad game last night.

The stronger Red squad drubbed the Whites, but the offense showed its stuff by scoring several touchdowns.

Now the Cats will continue having one practice each day, beginning to taper off next Tuesday. Meanwhile, reports from Ashdown have been favorable to the effect that the Panthers are not very strong.

It still ought to be quite a battle, as both teams will be playing their first games. The Bobcats still have not suffered any battlefield losses, and should gain a few in numbers by new candidates as the regular school term gets underway.

Professional Golf Dispute Continues

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — The struggle between the Professional Golfers Association and the rebelling touring pros continued today, with most of the activity behind locked doors and the major participants saying very little.

Arnold Palmer spent four hours in a closed-door session with the 16-man executive committee of the Professional Golfers Association in Washington Thursday. He made a proposal he declined to make public and missed his chance for a practice round for the $150,000 Thunderbird Classic Open golf tournament which began today.

Asked if he would say the meeting was encouraging, Palmer said:

"It was cordial. But I would not use the word encouraging." Palmer, the defending champion of this tourney, probably the greatest name in the game and the all-time leading money winner, "came before the executive committee on his own for the session in the best interests of golf," said a brief statement released jointly by Palmer and PGA President Max Elbin.

The statement also said "the executive committee is taking this (Palmer's) proposal under advisement for further consideration."

The touring pros, who broke with the PGA—which also represents some 6,000 club pros—two weeks ago, meanwhile went about the business of setting up their own organization, the American Professional Golfers.

"There are a lot of things to be done in setting up a new organization," said Jack Nicklaus, a member of the executive board of the new group. "We don't want to sit back and call names. We just want to go ahead."

He and other members of the group's executive board also held a closed door meeting.

Johnson of Tennessee and tackle Howie Fiest of Texas, tackle Ernie Wright, on the other hand, is in his ninth pro year. The other guard is third-year pro Pat Matson.

Right now the defensive line has Jim Griffin and Harry Gunner at end and Bill Staley and Bill Kindricks at tackle.

Probably the best part of the defense is the linebacking where veterans Dan Brabham and Frank Buncom are stationed. Sherrill Headrick, another veteran, started out at middle linebacker, but he's been injured so Mike Hilder has stepped in.

The secondary also is comprised of veterans—Fletcher Smith and Bobby Hunt, both of whom came from Kansas City, White Graves and Charlie King,

Brock Steals 4 Bases in Card Win

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Pittsburgh Pirates had the right idea but the place for pine tar was on Lou Brock's spikes, not Bob Brock's hand.

Brock stole four bases and the St. Louis Cardinals rapped the Pirates 5-0 Thursday night, smacking Moose and his some what sticky pitches for four runs and six hits in less than three innings.

The Cards complained that Moose had pine tar on his pitching hand and the umpires ordered him to the dugout in the middle of the third inning to clean his hand. He came back to face four batters, surrender a walk and two singles and leave again—this time for a relief pitcher.

Elsewhere in the National League Thursday, New York shut out Cincinnati 2-0, Atlanta blanked Philadelphia 6-0 and Houston rapped San Francisco 6-1. Chicago and Los Angeles were not scheduled.

In the American League, Chicago shut out New York 1-0. Boston battered Oakland 11-2. Detroit blanked California 2-0. Minnesota shaded Cleveland 3-2 and Washington edged Baltimore 5-4 in 11 innings.

Brock, who scored twice, had a single and four walks. The only time he didn't steal was in the third inning when there were two runners on base in front of him and he had no place to go.

The four thefts gave the Cardinal speedster 41 for the season, just one back of Pittsburgh's Maury Wills, the National League leader.

Brock and Curt Flood walked in the first and scooted home on run-scoring singles by Rogers Maris and Tim McCarver. Dale Maxvill and pitcher Ray Washburn singled two more across in the third and Maris' single delivered a wrapup run in the sixth.

Cal Koonce and Ron Taylor combined for a two-hitter against the Reds, giving the Mets their 62nd victory—one more than New York managed all of last season.

Koonce, making his first start after 45 relief appearances, stayed in Cincinnati until the seventh when Taylor took over. Bud Harrelson had three hits for the Mets and Cincinnati's Pete Rose went hitless, ending a 19-game batting streak.

Phil Niekro fired a two-hitter at Philadelphia and Atlanta used home runs by Felipe Alou, Hank Aaron and Deron Johnson to beat the Phillies.

Niekro didn't allow a runner past first base and won his 11th game. Alou and Aaron both homered in the first and Johnson connected in the eighth as the Braves planned a fifth-straight loss on the Phillies.

Houston pounded Juan Marichal for six runs in less than two innings and cruised past the Giants on Dave Giusti's four-hitter.

Denis Menke tagged a three-run homer in the first inning, and the Astros knocked Marichal out after 1-2-3 innings—the earliest kayo of his career. It was the second straight loss for the Giant right-hander, now 23-7.

Play-for-Fun Boys Leading Tournament

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — The first-round elimination of two old pros at the hands of a pair of hustling amateurs has buoyed the confidence of the play-for-fun boys in the first U.S. Open Tennis Championships.

"I think, with a couple of breaks, I can win this thing," Clark Graebner, one of the regulars on the American Davis Cup team, said today. "I think any one of four amateurs could do it—myself, Arthur Ashe, Charlie Pasarell or Tom Okker."

"There's a chance, of course, but you have to bet on the pros," added a more cautious Ashe, the new National Amateur champion. "The trouble is you have too many pros to beat."

South Africa's Ray Moore, who knocked off 10th seeded Andres Gimeno of Spain to grab one of the early pro scalps also was reserved but hopeful.

"An amateur could win but I'd have to pick Rod Laver or Ken Rosewall—they're the best tennis players in the world," said Moore.

Rosewall, seeded third, won over Jim Parker of St. Louis in his first match 6-3, 6-3, 6-4.

Moore crushed Gimeno, said as he did at Wimbledon, 4-6, 6-1, 6-2, 6-1.

The other beaten pro was semiretired Barry MacKay, who lost to 23-year-old Jim Osborne of Honolulu 8-6, 4-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Laver, winner at Wimbledon and recognized as the No. 1 player in the world, makes his debut against Tomas Koch of Brazil, in a battle of left-handers Sunday. Both drew opening byes.

Billie Jean King, the Wimbledon queen and favored to take the $6,000 women's first prize, made her debut Thursday by crushing Vija Vuskalns, a 29-year-old dentist from Port Washington, N.Y., 6-1, 6-0.

erly Hills, Calif., 6-1, 6-4. Seeded men's players to advance Thursday included Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., No. 6, winner over Chauncey Steel III of Cambridge, Mass., 6-3, 6-0, 6-4, and Charlie Pasarell of Puerto Rico, the No. 1 ranked U.S. amateur and No. 12 seed, who downed Australia's Karl Coombes 11-9, 8-6, 6-1.

Collegiate Offers Bid for Glory

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two young collegiate golfers, bidding for glory in their first crack in the U.S. Amateur, clung to a one-stroke advantage today going into the third round of the prestige tournament.

But in hot pursuit, and still regarded as the player to beat, was British amateur king, Michael Bonallack.

At least a dozen others were within five strokes of the co-leaders.

Bruce Fiesher, a 19-year-old junior college youth from Hialeah, Fla., and Hubie Green, the Alabama amateur titlist from Birmingham, moved into a tie for the 36-hole lead Thursday with three-over-par 143.

Fiesher became the first player to match par on the treacherous par 70, 6,762-yard Scioto Country Club layout and Green registered a 71 to gain a share of the lead.

Fiesher, a sophomore at Miami Dade North Junior College who scored 73 Wednesday, described his round that included two birdies and two bogeys as "lucky."

Green, a 21-year-old thin man who measures 6-foot-1 and weighs 145 pounds, needed only 29 putts in a solid round marred by a double bogey six on No. 16.

The husky Bonallack must be wondering how to get a par on the short 235-yard No. 14. For the second straight day, the 33-year-old Englishman suffered a double bogey 5 on his jinx hole when he hooked his drive to the left under a tree and three-putted from 50 feet.

His 71-73—144 left him in good shape, though, for the final 18 holes, Margaret Smith Court of Australia No. 4, and Maria Bueno of Brazil, No. 5, also won or better, survived the halfway handily. Mrs. Court trounced out.

Conditioning Order of Day for Porkers

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The emphasis will be on conditioning and learning when the Arkansas Razorbacks begin fall practice today in shorts as required by a rules change.

"We should have much of the teaching done before we get into pads," coach Frank Broyles said Thursday. "We'll have six practices in shorts. That's equal to a week's work."

"We should be able to run plays in repetition while in pads," he said. "Where we might have had to spend a lot of time reviewing, instead we'll be able to run probably four plays a minute."

Football candidates reported Thursday for their physical examinations.

"As far as their weight, the boys are in pretty good shape," Broyles said. "As a squad, they look satisfactory."

The Razorbacks open the season Sept. 21 against Oklahoma State at Little Rock.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

MISSPLACE SYMPATHY DOESN'T HIT THE SPOT
Dear Helen: Our son was five years old when we learned he needed a hearing aid. He is doing well but must wear a device on both ears.

The trouble is people won't accept the fact that he's normal. When they think "deaf" they assume "dumb." This isn't true. Though he's behind for his age, he's very smart. Yet somebody always murmurs, "Poor boy!"

I let him go out with his bike, after first going with him to show him things to watch out for. Several friends have told me I shouldn't allow him out of the yard.

We don't want to smother him with over-protection, yet if we treat him as a lively, happy, ordinary child, people warn us we're taking too many chances. Naturally he senses this. I'm afraid he'll get self-conscious about his "differentness."

How can I make everybody stop offering sympathy we don't want? — PUZZLED MOTHER
Dear Mother: By either pretending you don't hear it or making light of the comments, so that your son won't let them affect him.

But aren't you like the childless wife who mourns, "Everybody asks why we aren't having children?" Really, MOST people don't make gauche remarks, and the few who do aren't worthy of your notice. Perhaps one in 25 knows about your boy's deafness, but because you're over-sensitive just now, her words are all you can hear. Remember those same people would be tactless on any subject, so smile and ignore 'em. — H.

Dear Helen: My husband and I are tired of hearing all our relatives tell us we should have a little girl to go with our two boys. We're happy with our fine sons, and even if we tried again, we can't exactly order the gender.

These insensitive clouds worry us with this reasoning. "In your old age a daughter will care for you, whereas when a boy gets married he forgets his family." We have no intention of living off our kids in our old age.

than another old saw: "A whistling girl and a crowing hen always come to bad end."

Practice selective deafness on your tactless relatives and don't judge all by a few. (See answer to "Puzzled Mother" above)

Dear Helen: Artie, my boyfriend, and I have been going together for five years. The trouble is he got miffed at me a couple of years ago and married another girl, but he never stopped seeing me.

Now his wife is pregnant. I know she has a right to be, but I can't help feeling feeling he has been untrue to me, for you see, I am pregnant too. I told Artie, and he thought it was a big joke. I had him first; can't I make him divorce her and marry me? — CONFUSED.

Dear Con: Why, for Pete's sake, would you want a two-timing sneak who laughs about getting a girl pregnant? I can't see why his wife would want him either, but she's stuck with him, poor thing. There are worse fates than being an unwed mother—and I'll bet she agrees with me. — H.

State Group Finally Came Around
By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The Arkansas delegation, which withheld two votes from presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey, has given him unanimous support on his choice for his running mate at the Democratic National Convention's final session.

All of Arkansas' 32 votes went to Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine. The delegation had agreed informally to go along with Humphrey's choice for the vice presidential nomination even before Humphrey made his selection known Thursday.

The choice was not greeted with great joy in the Arkansas camp, however. Arkansas wanted the bid to go to Sen. Fred Harris of the neighboring state of Oklahoma.

the International Amphitheater, the convention site.

"I like Muskie myself," she said.

Will Medley of Hampton, who has been attending conventions since 1916, also thought Humphrey would carry Arkansas.

E.S. Stephens of Fort Smith, a Humphrey backer, wasn't impressed with Muskie. "We've almost got a Canadian ticket," he said. Both Maine and Minnesota, Humphrey's home state are on the Canadian border.

In its final caucus of the convention, delegates cheered when Chairman Leon Caltelt of Little Rock praised Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley and police for maintaining security at the convention.

NFL EAST: Century Division-Cleveland

PROSPECTUS—Signs of atrophy and erosion are afflicting the defending division champ. Can't be sure how long Frank Ryan, their professional quarterback, will stand up physically any longer. Retirement affected a couple of key spots, and internal conflict erased long-time regulars from a couple of others. So coach Blanton Collier actually has a rebuilding job on his hands while trying to bring home another winner to Cleveland.

PREDICTION—Second in Century Division.

Blanton Collier
OFFENSE
PASSING—If Ryan's elbow, or some other part of his anatomy, does flare up again, Browns are better fortified than they've been in recent years through acquisition of Steeler Bill Nelsen, who's also smelled the ether a time or two but has youth going for him. Rating—B.

RECEIVING—An O.K. department again, since Milt Morin has reclaimed his job at tight end. Gary Collins and Paul Warfield provide ideal blend of strength and speed at wide spots. Collins is a whiz on post patterns; Warfield can fly. Only hitch is that they better stay healthy because the quality drops off abruptly. Rating—B+.

RUNNING—The puzzle is Ernie Green's knee, hurt early in training. Browns hope he can skip operation, for now at least, and team with superb Leroy Kelly again. Otherwise, youngsters, among them Charley Harroway, must develop quickly under fire. Chances are it will be a game-to-game proposition. Of course, Kelly insures top mileage. Rating—B+.

LINE—Abrupt dismissal of John Wooten left a hole at guard they've had to fill with converted tackle John Demaris. Rookie guard Harry Oltzewski is a possibility. Browns have to start thinking about recasting rest of their forward wall soon because tackles Dick Schafrath and Monte Clark, guard Gene Hickey are all in their 30s and not terribly pushed by competition. Rating—B.

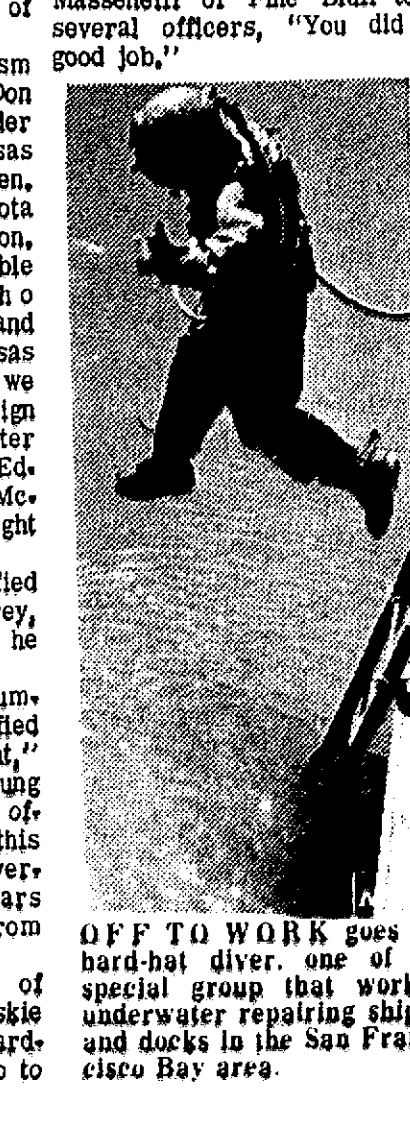

Guard Training Deficiencies Investigated

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rep. Ed Reinecke, R-Calif., says the Army is investigating National Guard records that allegedly were falsified to show a California unit had been adequately prepared for Vietnam duty.

In an interview with the Los Angeles Times, Reinecke said Thursday, the unit, the 1st Squadron, 18th Armored Cavalry, is currently undergoing extra training at Ft. Lewis, Wash., to make up its training deficiencies.

Sixth Army headquarters in San Francisco acknowledged that the unit is at Ft. Lewis but declined to release further information about Reinecke's charges.

Reinecke said the unit was scheduled to go to Vietnam Sept. 25 but was ordered to the Washington post after inspector general's officers found discrepancies in personnel records.

OFF TO WORK goes a hard-hat diver, one of a special group that works underwater repairing ships and docks in the San Francisco Bay area.

HOME IS WHERE YOU FIND IT for these poor people of Jakarta, Indonesia, who are using huge water pipes as dwellings. Located on the outskirts of the city, the makeshift lodgings are considered better than none. It is hoped that newly opened gambling casinos will provide money to build apartments for slum dwellers.

Opening lead—♦ Q

Today's hand was played somewhere in New Jersey and reported by Dick Budd in the Declarer, the bulletin of the New Jersey Bridge League.

South's three-heart call was highly competitive but he played the dummy like an overbidder should and made his contract.

Diamonds were opened and continued. South ruffed the second and lost a spade finesse. A third diamond was ruffed also and South led a low trump in order to retain trump control. West rose with the queen and led his last diamond to force South to ruff the third time. South cashed his ace of trumps and led a spade to dummy's ace. Then he made the unusual play of dummy's last trump to throw East in lead. East got out with his last spade and South was finally down to the problem which had worried him from trick one. Where was the queen of clubs?

It had worried South at trick one but it wasn't worrying him now. East had already shown up with 14 high card points and a balanced hand for his opening bid. If he also held the queen of clubs, he would have held a perfect 16 point no-trump and East was not a man to miss the chance to bid no-trump.

As a further check on the situation West had shown two queens and a jack for his spade bid. Even another queen wouldn't give him much of a hand but without that queen it was very doubtful that he would have opened his mouth at all.

Therefore South played his

A Closer Walk With God

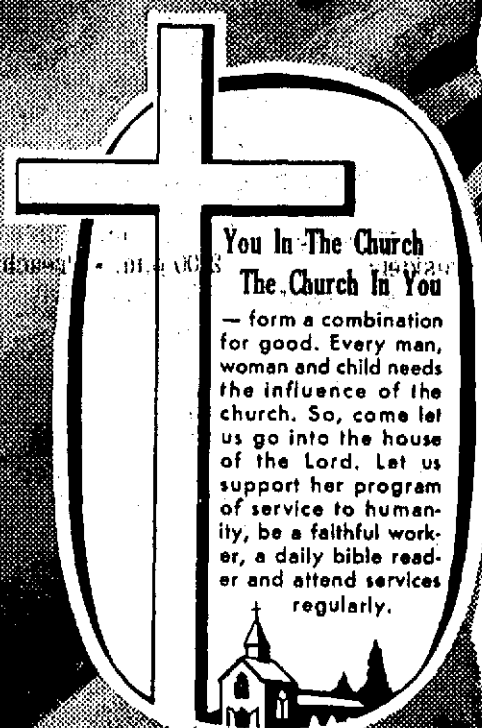

Will Lead You Right Straight to Church

man's work

Christ made the laboring man a great promise. The proclaiming of Labor Day as a national holiday might not be a coincidence after all. In St. Matthew, the Lord promised rest to all those who labor and are heavy laden. Thus the National Holiday was set aside in respect to all those who work together to make our nation strong and free. God is on the side of the working man, but He has no use for the nonproducers — the drones — the sluggards — the usurpers. In Corinthians, He makes it very plain that every man shall receive his own reward, according to his own labor. Then, let us not gloat over past accomplishments. Let us put our shoulders to the wheel for greater achievements. As we honor our working women and men, let us reflect on all the good fortunes of every American laborer. And may we reverently think on God as we celebrate, as we pay our respects, for we know, a man's work is born with him.

Judge Liked the Sticker

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A car parked outside the state Capitol had a bumper sticker above a license plate: "Supreme Court Justice." The bumper sticker read, "Here comes da judge."

"My grandnephew dug it up," said Colorado's Chief Justice Otis Moore. "I kinda got abuzz out of it."

Whence Named

Hollyhock is the garden mallow (Anglo-Saxon hoc, mallow). It is called hollyhock or hollyhock from the Holy Land, where it is indigenous.

PARTY SPLIT

ing tear gas and swinging clubs to break up demonstrations by anti-Vietnam war protesters.

After going through the motions of selecting Muskie, delegates cheered and waved banners to the tune of "Happy Days Are Here Again" as Humphrey took the podium to accept the presidential nomination and plead for national unity and justice.

Signalling his promotion from President Johnson's team to his now sovereign position as his party's nominee, the vice president told the delegates that their areas of agreement are much greater than those of division.

On the sorest issue of all, he said:

"Let those who believe our cause in Vietnam has been right — and those who believe it has been wrong — agree here and now: Neither vindication nor repudiation will bring peace or be worthy of our country."

"If there is one lesson we should have learned, it is that the policies of tomorrow need not be limited by the policies of yesterday."

"If I am president, I shall apply that lesson to the search for peace in Vietnam as to all other areas of national politics."

He told the convention that the "trouble in America ... comes not from lack of faith but from a killing of hope." He said new aspirations have been awakened but have been accompanied by impatience for solutions of the problems of race, poverty, crime, hunger and despair.

and drove home.

The rescue followed anguished hours of negotiating between an intermediary of the parents and the kidnaper, who agents said left a note demanding $250,000 in the same closet where he dumped Mrs. Stalford after taping her hands, feet and mouth before fleeing with the boy in one of the family's luxury cars.

The intermediary was a friend of the family, restaurant owner Red Tracton, who said he talked to the kidnaper by telephone "15 times from 7 p.m. on" Thursday night.

"He called me at the restaurant first," said Tracton, a stocky man with red hair. "We set up places to meet. I kept the appointments, but he never showed up."

Tracton said the kidnaper finally set a meeting place on a "lonely, deserted road" in the Los Angeles suburb of El Segundo near Los Angeles International Airport.

"I broke every traffic regulation I could think of" getting there, Tracton said, fearing he had lost contact.

An officer stopped him and started writing a ticket.

"Get away from me," he told the policeman. "Call the FBI and tell them I'm meeting the kidnaper. If you don't believe me, look in the front of my car."

He pointed to a satchel containing the ransom money.

Tracton said he drove on a dirt road, parked his car and walked about three blocks carrying the satchel. A car drove up. He thought it belonged to the kidnaper, but it contained FBI agents.

The agents drove away, leaving him alone. Seconds later, the suspect's car pulled up and stopped. Tracton said the boy was out of sight.

The kidnaper "insisted on me giving him the money," Tracton said. "I wouldn't do it until I knew the kid was alive." The boy appeared.

By pre-arranged code with the kidnaper, Tracton asked the youngster through the window of the car the name of his dog.

"Misty," came the reply.

"What was Susan's brother's name?"

CZECHS TOLD

cow agreement appears to repudiate the purge.

The National Assembly on Wednesday rejected the Moscow accord, but as in all Communist countries, assembly action is of small importance compared with what the Communist party does.

The Soviet press has made no mention of the assembly's decision. But the official news agency Tass declared: "The right-wing counterrevolutionary forces are becoming more active trying to frustrate the first constructive steps of the party and the government leadership of Czechoslovakia."

Party secretary Alexander Dubcek, the leader of the liberals who was arrested by the Russian invaders and released after the Moscow talks, was reported under medical care, mentally and physically exhausted.

PROMISES TO

Johnson administration as long as he served it as vice president, but edge open the door for new approaches if elected president.

In his acceptance speech he urged, "Let those who believe that our cause in Vietnam has been right — and those who believe it has been wrong — agree here and now: Neither vindication nor repudiation will bring peace or be worthy of our country."

Looking ahead to Inauguration Day, Humphrey said, "No one knows what the situation in Vietnam will be on Jan. 20, 1969. Every heart in America prays that, by then, we shall Vietnam, and be in serious negotiation toward a durable peace."

He promised, both as candidate and vice president, to do everything possible to add the Paris peace talks. But he then made his apparent declaration of political independence on the policies of tomorrow.

He spelled out no specific new paths, no areas of disagreement with present policies, but offered his vow to strive for "a prompt end to this war."

Humphrey spoke at the close of a convention marked by repeated battles over the Democratic position on that war.

GLASS TOSSING

McCarthy said as he viewed the melee scene on the 15th floor.

"If this was a case of smoked fish and beer cars that provoked this incident, then political conventions are through," he added.

Police said they used telescopes to determine the windows from which the debris was falling onto the Illinois National Guardsmen patrolling Michigan Avenue in front of the Hilton, the headquarters hotel for the Democratic National Convention which ended Thursday night.

The guardsmen fired tear gas Thursday night into a crowd of some 3,000 antiwar demonstrators and 79 persons including eight convention delegates or alternates and two newsmen were arrested several blocks south of the Hilton.

The arrests occurred when the demonstrators began to march in the direction of the International Amphitheatre, site of the convention.

ers argued in secret Thursday over what course to take amid the Soviet bloc occupation.

The meeting was not held at party headquarters, although it was no longer guarded by Soviet tanks. It probably was held at some factory. At least once since the occupation began Aug. 20, party leaders have put on overalls and drifted into a factory when the shifts changed to hold secret talks.

Theory Tested

Generations ago, antedating Dr. Townsend and his New Deal contemporaries, there was a theory, kicked around as a gag, that if a fellow got far enough in the financial hole he could retire and live on the interest of what he owed.

For a long time it was shunned as public policy. Now it would be interesting to wait around and see how it turns out. - Nashville (Tenn.) Banner

Name Of The Happiness

It would be difficult to find a country in which there is more complaining and griping than the U.S.

The American has been raised to understand that he has not only a God-given but a constitutionally-given right to complain about the government, taxes, the weather, tv, newspaper editorials, short skirts, long skirts, the war, prices, wages and the entire gamut. We do not quarrel with that right. We hasten to say we will defend it until our type-writer ribbon wears out. But just for a change wouldn't it be nice if we counted our blessings instead of the things we have to gripe about?

It's difficult, of course, for Americans to see their beloved America as it really is. For that we sometimes need foreign eyes, such as the eyes of writer John Braine, British author of "Room at the Top," who said when he got back to London that he had been inexplicably happy during a tour of the U.S., and didn't know what to make of it.

"Toward the end of the trip I worked it out," he said. "The name of the happiness was freedom. The U.S. was still a country in which you could be anything you wanted to be, from beanstalk to millionaire. This was a country in which still ple, not the people for the state. The name of the system the people lived under was capitalism. It was often cruel, often unjust, often inefficient, often wasteful, but it gave everyone, even in an arbitrary and confused way, a chance to be what he wanted to be. Above all, it didn't care. It left people alone."

John Braine was so overwhelmed with his visit and the insight it gave him that he changed from a life-long Socialist to a supporter of Britain's Conservative party. Now, as for those who complain about the U. S. - Orlando (Fla.) Sentinel

Rainfall Is Expected in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rainfall is expected to increase and cool temperatures continue over Arkansas through Labor Day weekend.

A high pressure system that has cooled August-type weather in the state all week is still stationary, while a upper level low pressure system moving slowly eastward across the state is causing a wide band of showers and thundershowers.

The only rainfall reported in the 24-hour period that ended at 7:30 a.m. today was 0.03 inches at Fayetteville and 0.03 at Fort Smith.

Low temperatures reported around the state this morning ranged from 61 degrees at Walnut Ridge to 69 at Little Rock, Fort Smith and Texarkana.

Exchange on 4-Day Schedule

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock exchanges will continue their four-day trading weeks through September, the governing boards of the New York and American exchanges decided Thursday.

The exchanges and the over-the-counter market have been closing one day a week, mostly on Wednesdays, since June 12 to give brokers' clerical staffs more time to handle paperwork that accumulated during very heavy trading.

The exchanges will be closed next Monday, Labor Day, as usual. They also will close Sept. 11, 18 and 25, all Wednesdays.

Kidnaped Boy, Money Recovered

By BRUCE F. LOWITT
Associated Press Writer
BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) - FBI agents rescued the 4-year-old son of a banker from a kidnaper today after an auto chase that ended in a ramming and a gun battle - with the boy used as a shield.

Officers said they arrested the kidnaper, wounded. The boy suffered a leg injury. A ransom of $250,000 in $20 bills apparently never was turned over.

FBI agent Emmett D. Doherty suffered what was described as a minor bullet wound and the kidnaper was shot in the right arm.

"Why don't you kill me," agents quoted Robert L. Dacy as saying as they pulled him from a car in south central Los Angeles after the fight.

Dacy, 39, of nearby Lake-wood, was taken to Morningside Hospital for treatment.

So was Stanley Stalford Jr., the little boy with curly red hair was still wearing the blue swim suit he had on when abducted Wednesday from the family's expensive home in this plush community.

Doctors took seven stitches in the boy's left knee and treated a scratch on his head. He suffered both injuries in the auto crash that involved the car of at least one additional motorist passing by.

The boy's father, chairman of the board of the $100-million Fidelity Bank of Beverly Hills, and his mother, Joanne, waited in an anteroom while the doctors worked.

Then Stalford, 49, clutched the boy to his chest and took him to the family's luxury car.

"It is impossible to say how pleased my wife and I are," he said. "Needless to say we are very pleased."

Mrs. Stalford could only mutter, "Wonderful. Just wonderful."

She said the boy couldn't recount his frightening experience "because he is under sedation and he is dazed."

The youngster looked stunned as his father hoisted him over his right shoulder.

Wives Think Office Place Where Husbands Are Prey of Delilahs

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) - The American business office is firmly believed by many jealous wives to be a place where innocent husbands are led astray by cunning secretaries and voluptuous receptionists.

If this were only true, of course, ever U.S. farm and store and factory would be deserted. Every man in the nation would want an office job.

However, it's only a wifely delusion, created partly by sensation-seeking novelists, that business offices are oases of orgy inhabited by sultry Delilahs. The truth is that passion in the executive suite tends to be prim rather than primordial.

And as every working girl knows, it is not she who usually initiates any romantic overtures that may occur. The advances are made by the male swivel-chair daydreamers.

No office is without its quota of these would-be volvers, who are usually more clawless than lawless. If you glance around your own office the following Romeo types may be familiar:

The Junior Executive: He chuckles the chins or kisses the fading cheeks of all the old biddies, hoping by flattery and charm to get them to tell him what skeletons are hidden in the closets of the top executives. He

Czechs Told Not to Demand Too Much

PRAGUE (AP) - Scores of Soviet tanks pulled out of Prague today as Communist leaders assembled for a party congress debate on Moscow's demands for sharp curtailment of Czechoslovak liberalization.

The liberal leaders who signed an accord in Moscow already have cautioned against resistance. The local party leaders have to decide whether to reject the accord or find ways to live with it in hope they can convince Moscow that most of the 350,000 Soviet bloc occupation troops can leave the country soon.

Another issue facing the party congress is whether to reaffirm its decision at a secret session last week to purge hard-line members from the party central committee. The Kremlin called the session illegal and the Mos-

Guatemala Holds Some Suspects

GUATEMALA (AP) - The Guatemalan government said today it has detained numerous people in its investigation of the assassination of U.S. Ambassador John Gordon Mein but no charges have been filed against any of them.

Three men were picked up in a red car Thursday because one of the two cars that forced the ambassador's chauffeur-driven limousine to the curb Wednesday was red. But there was no indication so far that they had any connection with the assassination.

A statement purportedly signed by the ultrafarist Rebel Armed Forces - FAR - said its agents killed Mein, 54. It said they were trying to kidnap the envoy and hold him as a hostage for one of their terrorists, Camilo Sanchez, who was arrested Saturday.

But officials said it was possible that another group had issued the statement in FAR's name. The kidnapping of Guatemala's Roman Catholic archbishop in March was at first blamed on the FAR, but later it developed that it was the work of MANO, an organization of militant ultrarightists who were trying to provoke government action against the leftists.

President Julio Cesar Mendez Montenegro has imposed a 30-day state of siege, giving the government power to make arrests and conduct searches without warrants. The declaration also imposed severe press censorship. Foreign correspondents were not allowed to telephone information to their home offices, and censors delayed telegraph press messages as much as 10 hours.

Hard Fighting Leaves 200 Enemy Dead

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) - Hard fighting was reported in the northern and central part of South Vietnam today, with nearly 200 more Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldiers killed. But as the upsurge of combat continued for the 13th successive day, the enemy overran a small government outpost and killed 18 civilians and kidnaped 65 in two undefended hamlets.

The hardest fighting was reported south of Da Nang, where U.S. Marines, South Vietnamese rangers, dive bombers and artillery killed 126 enemy troops in three fights, the allied commands said. Allied casualties were 10 Marines and five rangers killed, and 52 Marines and 23 rangers wounded.

At the southern edge of the central highlands, fighting continued around the Duc Lap Special Forces camp, and government troops reported killing another 66 enemy soldiers Thursday. This raised the number of enemy claimed killed there since last Friday to nearly 1,000.

But the North Vietnamese put pressure on another isolated point, capturing a 4-to-12-man government outpost some 15 miles west of Quang Ngai City in the central lowlands and shelling the nearby Ha Thanh Green Beret camp.

At the outpost all of the defenders apparently were wiped out, and the attackers set up six mortars, two recoilless rifles and a machine gun which opened up on government reinforcements that were sent to try to drive the attackers out.

A U.S. spokesman said casualties in the shelling of the Special Forces camp were light, and reinforcements had been sent there from the U.S. 11th Light Infantry Brigade.

The camp is garrisoned by 10 or 15 American advisers and Montagnard tribesmen fighting as mercenaries.

Prank Playing Delegate Is Arrested

CHICAGO (AP) - Police arrested at least two Democratic delegates in antiwar protests Thursday night and took another into custody on the convention floor in a squabble over credentials.

David C. Hoeh, chairman of the New Hampshire delegation, was handcuffed and taken to a police station after he tried a credit card in an electronic machine used to scan credentials for admission to the convention floor.

Thomas D. Frasier, an Oklahoma delegate confined to a wheel chair, was seized by Chicago police in an antiwar march near the downtown lakefront area.

Also appearing in police court early today were a New York delegate and a Washington alternate.

Hoeh, from Hanover, N.H., said convention guards arrested him even after he identified himself. He said glasses were knocked off and the crystal of his watch smashed in a brief scuffle.

The New Hampshire chairman, who was wearing his proper delegate badge, said, "I just wanted to show that the machine would accept a false card, and it did." Hoeh was held up to an hour by police before he was released without charges being filed.

Frasier, a county Democratic chairman from Tulsa, Okla., had joined in an antiwar protest march led by comedian Dick Gregory south of the lakefront hotel row where demonstrators clashed with police in another night of tear gas and bloodshed. Police blocked the march and arrested leaders.

Nixon Going to Chicago

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) - Richard M. Nixon will resume his quest for the presidency on Wednesday in Chicago with a motorcade through the Loop and a television program broadcast throughout Illinois, an aide said Thursday.

The aide said Nixon will spend Wednesday night in Chicago and will travel to San Francisco Thursday. He also will campaign in Oklahoma and Texas during the tour.

Nixon has spent the past eight days on what he called a "working vacation" at Key Biscayne and the Bahamas. He flies to New York today for a round of planning.

Muskie Has Second Spot; Humphrey Starts Drive to Unify the Democrats

Party Split Apparently Wildest Ever

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer
CHICAGO (AP) - With a little-known senator from a small state as his handpicked running-mate, Democratic presidential candidate Hubert H. Humphrey starts a campaign that will first require plugging the gaping holes of party unity.

At Humphrey's request, the Democratic National Convention Thursday night dutifully delivered the vice presidential nomination to Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, a former Maine governor who has acquired the reputation of a capable senator, but not national popularity.

The convention closed after a week of discord, sometimes vitriolic, on a night marked again in downtown Chicago by police and National Guard troops firing.

Glass Tossing Youths Yanked from Hotel by Chicago Police

By JOSEPH R. TYBOR
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) - Police stormed through the 15th floor of the Conrad Hilton Hotel early today, clubbing and chasing supporters and aides of Sen. Eugene McCarthy after a barrage of smoked fish and empty beer cans clanged down on Michigan Avenue.

Illinois National Guardsmen were stationed on the avenue.

The police swept some 50 youths from the floor down to the lobby. Police said there were no arrests. They said none of the youths was registered in the hotel McCarthy's people claimed otherwise.

Anthony Podesta, 24, McCarthy's convention advance man, said he and about 20 McCarthy people were in suites 1506 and 1508 when the police "barged in."

"They claimed the room was listed as vacant on the hotel's lists and we had to leave," Podesta said. "This simply was not true."

John Warren, 24, the Arkansas coordinator for the McCarthy campaign, was struck on the head by a nightstick. Dr. William Davidson of Boston, McCarthy headquarters medical chief, said he treated three persons who had been clubbed.

One of those chased down to the lobby was Mary Beth McCarthy, 19, the senator's niece. In the lobby, some 30 of the youths sat on the floor in the elevator area, singing: "We Shall Overcome."

Many of the youths were allowed to return to the 15th floor after McCarthy interceded with officials.

Promises to Explore New War Policies

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) - Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, taking his first step out of the shadow of Lyndon B. Johnson as Democratic nominee for president, has pledged to explore new policies "if necessary to bring peace to Vietnam."

"The policies of tomorrow need not be limited by the policies of yesterday. If I am president, I shall apply that lesson to the search for peace in Vietnam," Humphrey told a cheering convention Thursday night.

With that pledge, Humphrey reached also for peace in a Democratic party torn by its deep divisions on Vietnam, scorned by the antiwar demonstrators who clashed with police in a fourth night of bloodshed in downtown Chicago.

Convention Approves by Acclamation

CHICAGO (AP) - Sen. Edmund S. Muskie accepted the Democratic nomination for vice president Thursday night by telling America it must learn to work with the forces of dissent exploding in the nation.

Muskie, handpicked by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to be the No. 2 man on the Democratic national ticket, was approved by the party's convention by acclamation. But there were noisy indications of discord when Muskie was nominated by Sen. Fred Harris of Oklahoma.

However, the only other man nominated, Georgia State Rep. Julian Bond, asked that his name be withdrawn and Humphrey's choice for running mate was overwhelmingly ratified.

Muskie, addressing a convention troubled by division over Vietnam and the violent antiwar demonstrations in downtown Chicago, suggested that America's advances in freedom may have served to spotlight its shortcomings.

"We have learned - painfully at times - that freedom does not automatically correct the inequities, the injustices, the human failures of a society," Muskie said. "It does not automatically create concern, understanding and compassion in all citizens."

The Maine senator said this may be in part responsible for what he called the surging determination of so many young people to play a role in setting the pace and direction of the country's future.

Muskie said, "There are disquieting aspects to this force. It can be expressed in unrestrained, irrational and sometimes explosive ways." But he called for patience in dealing with it and said:

"We must learn to work with this force, to insure continued and more meaningful participation in the democratic process. This should inspire those involved with confidence that their efforts will achieve the dignity, opportunity, equality and full participation, which is the measure of what they seek."

Muskie, personal choice of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey as his running mate, thanked the convention for the nomination and said, "I did not really expect that this opportunity and responsibility would come to me. My reaction to it is an acute awareness of the work we must do - to build a peace, to heal our country."

Real Estate Firm Broke

NEW YORK (AP) - William Zeckendorf, former president of the real estate firm of Webb & Knapp, says his debts total $79,076,100.53 while he has assets of $1,885,620.73.

Zeckendorf asked a federal court Thursday to sanction special arrangements with his creditors under the Bankruptcy Act.

Most of the debts, he said, resulted from obligations he made as head of the real estate firm, which is now in bankruptcy proceedings.
